they have been certified. Richard Sjoberg, who would be a new member of the committee, has also returned his papers and they have been certified, according to the Town Clerk's office.

Monday was the last day to return papers for the Town Election on April 11. According to the Town Clerk's office, no other candidates pulled papers for the two school committee seats. Cleary poked highly of Presser and Sjoberg.

"Dorothy is a huge benefit to the school committee," Cleary said. "Her knowledge base is just incredible. She's invaluable to the committee."

Cleary said she has not met Sjoberg, but has "heard great things about him."

"I think he will be a great addition to the school committee," Cleary said.

Through her time with the school committee, Cleary said there have been multiple superintendent searches and hires. The current superintendent is Jane Tremblay, who she said "has schools on the right track." She said Tremblay has a long-term plan for Lynnfield Public Schools.

"I look forward to seeing her plug through her strategy from year to year [and] bring that to fruition," Cleary said.

Cleary said she has "learned so much" and "met so many wonderful people" during her time on the school committee. She said she has seen how hard the school administrators work, which has been "invaluable with my confidence in the schools."

"Lynnfield Schools are in a great place and only getting better," Cleary said.

Lynnfield resident named to WPI's Fall Dean's List

WORCESTER - Worcester Polytechnic Institute (WPI) has announced that Francis LaRovere of Lynnfield, Mass., a member of the class of 2017, majoring in mechanical engineering, was named to the university's Dean's List for academic excellence for the fall 2015 semester. A total of 1,238 undergraduate students achieved the criteria required for WPI's fall 2015 Dean's List. The criteria for the WPI Dean's List differs from that of most other universities as WPI does not compute a grade point average (GPA). Instead, WPI defines the Dean's List by the amount of work completed at the A level in courses and projects.
